

Oak Harbor Freight Lines, Inc.

Questions and Answers

Volume 1

Q1 What is this posting for?

A1 We are providing information in question and answer format that you may want to know but is not critical enough to stop our operations to have a meeting over.

Q2 Where do these questions come from?

A2 These come from many different places, but the main source is asktheboss. We will always modify the question and answer so that no one can determine who submitted the question. We only select questions that relate to the majority of the employees at Oak Harbor. We are very selective because we want to protect your privacy when you submit a question.

Q3 How often will these be published?

A3 These will not be published on a schedule, we will post them when questions come up that need to be addressed.

Q4 Will there be a place to see the previous postings?

A4 Yes, on the Oakanswers website there will be an archive available.

Q5 What is with the disclaimer at the bottom of the page?

A5 It is unlawful for us to negotiate directly with our union represented employees. We respect that however that doesn't mean we can't or shouldn't communicate to you any information that is relevant to you or Oak Harbor. We just need you to understand that you can ask us questions, however your feedback should go to the union that represents you.

Submit your questions to Asktheboss@oakh.com

For our union represented employees if you have questions you may ask us. If you have feedback or input about our proposal or negotiations you must bring that to the union. The union is the lawful representative of our union employees. We simply want employees to know answers to relevant questions.